1974-Basket C.P.I. Classification	1978-Basket C.P.I. Classification
All-items	All-items
Food	Food
Food for home consumption	Food purchased from stores

"Food for home consumption" comprised only those food expenditures which were consumed at home, regardless of where the food items were purchased. As a result, "Carry-out meals" purchased from restaurants but consumed at home were included but food purchases from stores bought on a trip and not consumed at home were excluded and included instead in "Food away from home". In the 1978 basket, an attempt has been made to classify food expenditures according to place of purchase rather than consumption. "Food purchased from stores" includes all food purchases from stores regardless of where they are consumed. Food purchases made from restaurants and consumed at home are included in "Food purchased from restaurants". The net impact of these changes are considered minor and the two aggregate series "Food for home consumption" and "Food purchased from stores" are considered to be equivalent.
